THE DARK SORROW.

Perfecting Arrangements for the Funeral of Mrs. Harrison.

NO PUBLIC OR OFFICIAL DISPLAY.

Universal Sympathy from All Classes In This Country and Abroad Extended to the President and His Family.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—At the request of Dr. Hamilton, Rev. Dr. Bartlett, of the New York Evans Presbyterian church will assist in the services at the White House to-morrow morning. Dr. Bartlett was pastor of the Second Presbyterian church in Indianapolis previous to coming to Washington, and a neighbor of the president's family. At the funeral of the daughter of Secretary Tracy Mrs. Harrison was much impressed by the singing of Cardinal Newman's hymn "Lord, Kindly Light" by the choir of St. John's church and often spoke of it. The choir will be present at the services and repeat the hymn.

Though, as already stated, it is the president's wish that there shall be no public or official display in connection with the death of Mrs. Harrison, and the funeral services both here and at Indianapolis will be as simple as the rites of the Presbyterian church will permit, there are certain ceremonial observances inseparable from the event. All the ministers of foreign powers in this city will be personally on the secretary of state to express condolence, and will subsequently file in writing with him in permanent form the testimony of their regret. The representatives of foreign powers will in like manner convey their sympathy to our ministers abroad.

The vice-president and Mrs. Morton and the members of the cabinet and their wives, being the official family of the president, will go in mourning, and will be present in participating in social events for one month.

Following the precedent followed in the case of the death of Mrs. Tyler, the departments will probably be closed on the day of the funeral ceremonies here. President Harrison's brother, John Scott Harrison, of Kansas City, will reach Washington to-morrow morning and accompany the train to Indianapolis after the services here.

Mr. Carter B. Harrison, of Tennessee, another brother, will join the party at Indianapolis.

Vice-President Morton will be present at the services in this city.

In the course of the afternoon the cards of Abel Cruz, Cuban chargé d'affaires; Jose M. Yrigoyen, of the Peruvian legation; Mr. Griff, the Norwegian minister, and Assistant Attorney General Tyner of the post office department, were left at the door.

Mrs. John McLean sent a large bunch of magnificent chrysanthemums (Mrs. Harrison's flower), and the students of Methodist College, who were principally Misses Mary and Mrs. Harkness, were encouraged in several historical and social organizations, sent a beautiful wreath of roses. Some unknown friend sent an urn of purple flowers.

Hundreds of telegrams of condolence were received, almost every prominent man in the country uniting thus to express their sympathy with the stricken president and the sorrowing members of his family.

Arrangements for the funeral train are being perfected by Mr. George W. Boyd, assistant general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania line, under the direction of Frank Thompson, first vice-president. The train will consist of six vestibuled passenger cars, a composite baggage and saloon car, a dining car, a sleeping car, a compartment car, a private car, and an observation car, in the latter of which the casket will be placed. The train will leave Washington at 1:30 a.m. Thursday and arrive at Indianapolis at 9:30 a.m. Friday.

The programme at Indianapolis includes services at the First Presbyterian church at 10:30 a.m. followed by interment in Crown Hill.

After remaining a few hours at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Morris, the party will leave on the return trip at 7:40 p.m., reaching Washington Sunday afternoon at about 5 o'clock. The party will comprise the president and his personal and official family.

The appended note was sent to the press associations last night: "The services will be private and different to the extent in this room, but press will be allowed as far as possible to enable the relatives and personal friends of the president and Mrs. Harrison to be present."

Secretary John W. Foster called at the White House last night and although he did not see the president he remained in the office of Private Secretary Haldorf for more than an hour. All the members of the cabinet are in Washington now except Secretaries Charles Foster, Elkins and Bush, but they are expected to arrive today.

The Illinois Baptist General Association Sends Condolences.

PROVIDENCE, Oct. 26.—The Illinois Baptist General Association sent the following telegram of condolence to President Harrison yesterday afternoon:

"Waukesha. The news of this morning reports the death of Mrs. Harrison, the wife of our beloved president; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we extend our sympathies with the deepest sorrow and hatred to express our heartfelt sympathy with the bereaved family.

Mass Meeting of Citizens at the Court House—Full Explanation as to the Project—Decatur Ought to Have It—A Committee Appointed—A College Suggested Enthusiasm Awakened.

An important mass-meeting of citizens of means and good business judgment was held at the court house last night in response to a call issued by Mayor Chamberlain. Over one-hundred gentlemen were present. It was a gathering to devise ways and means of securing a new enterprise for Decatur.

The meeting was called to order by John A. Brown and Ex-Mayor D. S.
Shelabarger was elected chairman; John Young was chosen secretary. The charman called upon Mr. Brown to state the object of the meeting.

Mr. Brown stated that we live in a city where life is fastidious and industrial enterprises. He said that with the substantial growth in the way of new residences and in city improvements, Decatur has not kept pace with its spread in the way of industrial enterprises, not as many as other cities in the state.
He felt that this fact is apparent to all residents. He then referred to what Lafayette, Ind., had done to build up that town, by the extensive subsidiary of Big Four to get the Big Four railway shop there. We can do the same for Decatur, but unless something is done now, our city will fall into the same position. We must have industries. New houses are now in course of erection in Decatur, which means that there are more people coming to us. Four hundred other new houses are finished. The people must have employment. It is the duty of those interested to do something to attract people to stay more work shops. We are now offered the Commercial rolling plant, located at Burlington, Iowa, worth $150,000, a mill which makes iron which is in constant demand. This property is owned by Richard Brown, of Burlington, Iowa, who is 50 years of age and dead.
It is offered to us for $65,000, of which $10,000 stock will be taken by John W. Holiday, who was present at the meeting. The mill will employ 400 men, will give us more new houses, more business, and more new people to buy all the iron that can be brought into Decatur on the different railways. It will require $60,000 to get the mill here and start it. We should secure it. Lincoln, Neb., has offered $60,000 cash for this mill. Decatur is to be advised to state that the mill in operation in Decatur will pay the stockholders a dividend of 15 per cent. The town of Harvey, near Chicago, has offered a bonus of $10,000 for the mill. There are over 100 men in Decatur who are interested in getting this mill here. Will not let this out. Coal dear at Burlington.
It costs $1.80 a ton. In Decatur the fuel can be had at $1.25 per ton. Parties from Akron, Ohio, are now ready to lease the millard after big money.

John W. Holiday, the Burlington proprietor, was called upon by Chairman Shelabarger to further enlighten the gentlemen present on the operation of the commercial mill. He had a black board on which were a lot of figures, showing what it costs to make iron. The board showed that the total cost of a ton of manufactured iron to be $28.10 while the iron will sell at $30 a ton. The proposed mill, running 24 hours, will turn out 80 to 110 tons a day, giving a profit of $1.50 on every ton.
The iron will be used in the manufacture of electric street railway, good paving brick made right here in Decatur, and various articles used in the construction of cars.
Various uses of iron as to thickness and shape can be made.

Chairman Shelabarger made inquiry as to what the proposed mill would do in Decatur. Holiday replied that he would willing almost to guarantee a dividend of 15 per cent. on $100,000 invested.

Mrs. Harrison was the second wife of

On Sept. 19, 1842, Mrs. Letitia Tyler, wife of President Tyler, died there, and soon after Tyler succeeded William Henry Harrison in the Presidential chair.

Owing to the rush of business during the past week we have found it necessary

Cough Syrup for colds. I have used it for several years and find it the best

Burlington, W. Va."

Answering Dr. Walston, Mr. Holiday said the profit per ton is $100. He said the mill is to be built on the site of the old rolling mill. He said that a dozen people in the city know anything of the proposed deal. Mr. Holiday said he was a director in the company and was on a salary. If he disposed of the mill he will have an opportunity to make a great deal of money. The mill will be one-half the importance of the rolling mill. It is represented to be,
I would say it is well worth our most strenuous efforts to secure it, even if it is not to pay even the fraction of a division. The world will be greatly interested and professional. But why is it that Burlington will not the mill to leave that city. What is the profit per ton?

It is learned that there was no cake objected to the judges appointed by Rev.

bridge from their post of honor, and after a dozen contestants had made the circle of the hall three times without getting the objectors to surrender, the walkers threw up the sponge. The $25

L. F. ANNALS, the artistic photographer, was present at the McKinley demonstration at the depot to-day and took a picture 11x14 inches, of the immense throng.

A special committee of Republicans—ex-Mayor M. P. Kanan, John Ulrich, J. M. Okey and Charles M. Hurst—went to Litchfield on the early train this morning, and then accompanied the party to Decatur. On the special, the combination coach "Gladys," with Mr. Ball as conductor, and Billy Anderson as engineer, were Governor and Mrs. McKinley, the latter an invalid; Hon. John R. Tanner, National Republican committeeman, Hon. J. G. Cannon, U. S. District Marshal, Hitch, of Paris; Attorney General George Hunt, George Dyas, of Pittsfield; Ill. Mr. Busby, of the Chicago Inter Ocean and John Corwin, of the Chicago Tribune; also the Decatur committee.

As the special approached the platform Goodman's Band struck up a patriotic strain and the people in the crowd shouted themselves hoarse as Chairman Lytle and others ushered the Governor to the platform, to be received with renewed shouts and a shower of American tin badges thrown high in the air by H. W. Bartholomew.

THE SPLENDID ADDRESS.

When quiet was restored Hon. W. F. Colborn stepped forward, and without any attempt at speech, introduced Governor McKinley, who after the cheers had subsided, spoke as follows:

MR. FELLOW CITIZENS.—If I have any lack of voice this morning, it is because the last six weeks we have been giving it to the Republican party. (Cheers and cries—"Give it a little louder.")

I am glad to meet and to greet this vast assembly of the people of the state of Illinois. You ought to be a very proud people. You are now the third largest in the Union in population, having swept over by the states of Ohio, and we are next to the state of Illinois.

I am glad to speak in the state of Illinois, the state of Decatur, and in the state of Grant, an especially good reason to meet the old neighbors and fellow citizens of that distinguished old state and veteran Republic and that splendid soldier Gov. Oglesby. (Applause.)

We have before us this year to be satisfied by the changes of all the people two great and overwhelming national questions.

The Democratic party has been finally unbound for more than thirty years.

Mr. Parker and I never made it possible for you to buy "Herrford" dinnerware for about two-thirds of what they make it in Decatur, where we went into the business.

Four Thousand People See and Hear the Ohio Governor.

The Party on the Special Train—Fast Time from Litchfield—71 Miles an Hour

Decatur was honored to-day between 12 and 1 o'clock by the presence of Governor William McKinley, Ohio's great governor, and the wise and famed exponent of America's benevolent protection idea. He arrived on a special train at 12:18 p. m. from St. Louis and Litchfield, and made a stop of 37 minutes leaving for Dunville at 12:50 promptly Decatur Republicans, with scores of Democrats in the crowd, gave the Major a hearty reception and cheered him heartily as he appeared on the platform, about which about four thousand people had assembled. It was an inspiring sight and recalled the enthusiastic reception given President Harrison at the same spot on May 14, 1891. And in the elbowing crowd were men of all ages, women and children. Hundreds of shopmen were there, and they crowded to the front to hear the speech, and they cheered the American sentiments expressed.

Governor McKinley spoke from a high and projecting platform built on a lavishly decorated platform car, which was placed and arranged under the direction of W. H. Bramble, who did the work with several assistants inside of three hours. The car was so placed that the distinguished visitor could easily reach it from his special car, and could face an open space to the south, east of the Union depot, where the great crowd assembled. A few rough seats were provided in front and all were taken quickly. On the platform were many gentlemen and numerous ladies. The ladies were Mrs. W. B. Chambers, Mrs. F. M. Young, Mrs. W. F. Calhoun, Mrs. J. M. Clokey, Mrs. J. C. Lake, Mrs. H. B. Ones; also Mrs. Margaret E. Wicketts of Kansas, national president of the Woman's Relief Corps; Mrs. F. Miller of Monticello, national inspector; Mrs. K. Harwood of Decatur, assistant national inspector, and Mrs. Ellis B. Kennedy of Decatur, state recorder of the Department of Illinois.

A special committee of Republicans—ex-Mayor M. P. Kanan, John Ulrich, J. M.

Okey and Charles M. Hurst—went to Litchfield on the early train this morning, and then accompanied the party to Decatur. On the special, the combination coach "Gladys," with Mr. Ball as conductor, and Billy Anderson as engi-nier, were Governor and Mrs. McKinley, the latter an invalid; Hon. John R. Tanner,

National Republican committeeman,

Hon. J. G. Cannon, U. S. District Marshal, Hitch, of Paris; Attorney General

George Hunt, George Dyas, of Pittsfield;

Ill. Mr. Busby, of the Chicago Inter-

Ocean and John Corwin, of the Chicago Tribune; also the Decatur committee.

As the special approached the platform Goodman's Band struck up a patriotic strain and the people in the crowd shouted themselves hoarse as Chairman Lytle and others ushered the Governor to the platform, to be received with renewed shouts and a shower of American tin badges thrown high in the air by H. W. Bartholomew.

THE SPLENDID ADDRESS.

When quiet was restored Hon. W. F. Colborn stepped forward, and without any attempt at speech, introduced Governor McKinley, who after the cheers had subsided, spoke as follows:

MR. FELLOW CITIZENS.—If I have any lack of voice this morning, it is because the last six weeks we have been giving it to the Republican party. (Cheers and cries—"Give it a little louder.")

I am glad to meet and to greet this

Universal Sympathy from All Classes in This Country and Abroad Extended to the President and His Family.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—At the request of Dr. Hamlin, Rev. Dr. Bartlett, of the New York-avenue Presbyterian church will assist in the services at the White House to-morrow morning. Dr. Bartlett was pastor of the Second Presbyterian church in Indianapolis previous to coming to Washington, and a neighbor of the president's family. At the funeral of the daughter of Secretary Tracy Mrs. Harrison was much impressed by the singing of Cardinal Newman's hymn "Lead, Kindly Light" by the choir of St. John's church and often spoke of it. The choir will be present at the services and render the hymn which they acknowledge God in all things and shall find this grace sweet in such an hour.

LAWLESSNESS IN PITTSBURGH.

Inisted by the Indictment Remark of a Careless Lawyer.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 26.—Through the indiscreet utterances of a lawyer Monday night in trying a case of a trivial nature a spirit of lawlessness was aroused that had fruitful bearing of a most lawless nature. The case of James Holloman, who was charged with disorderly conduct and rendering an officer, came up for adjudication before Squire Offenher. Attorney D. R. Jones, ex-president of the Miners' union, was retained by the defense. In his defense the culprit made the utterance in vindication of the prisoner, "that the person under arrest and all others not only exercised a right but performed a sacred duty in resisting unless the officer had a warrant for his arrest." His utterances were regarded as inflammatory in the extreme, and while Squire Offenher reprimanded him the crowd, who listened to his utterances, applauded to the echo, and the Justice was powerless. Holloman, the prisoner, however, was held under $500 bail for act.

Later in the evening there was a good deal of lawlessness and many persons are ready to hold Mr. Jones' indiscretions responsible for the riot.

A man named John Gilder, who was filled with ladies who formed a fringe of bright and dainty color around the compact crowd seated below them. Gov. Flower and David B. Hill were received with great enthusiasm. These prominent figures were surrounded by a group distinguished in municipal, state and national democracy.

Chairman Rose called the meeting to order and introduced Gov. Flower, the presiding officer, who addressed the meeting briefly, receiving an ovation. At the end of Gov. Flower's speech the secretary read the list of vice-presidents, nearly all of whom were seated on the platform.

Resolutions were adopted endorsing the nominations of Cleveland and Stevenson, the Chicago convention, ex-President Cleveland's letter and the local democratic ticket.

To add to the interest of the scene the balconies of the hall were filled with ladies who formed a fringe of bright and dainty color around the compact crowd seated below them.

TO APPROPRIATE $50,000.

At ten o'clock this morning the nine presiding elders of the Illinois Conference of the Methodist church, met at the First Methodist church in this city to appropriate $50,000 of benevolences to be raised by the church the ensuing year.

They represent nine different districts and 56,000 members. Dr. Wilder, president of the Wesleyan University at Bloomington, is also in attendance in the interests of that institution.—Springfield News.

Conducted by the Pension Veto.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 26.—The great sensation in political circles yesterday was the announcement that Gen. John P. Rea, ex-commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic and a life-long republican, had come out for Cleveland and Lawler. It had been arranged to spring the general at Democratic demonstration Monday night, but business prevented it, and the fact of the conversion was kept a quietus.

The republicans are astounded and refuse to believe the story, but Gen. Rea confirms it with his own lips. His conversion was primarily brought about by Cleveland's pension veto.

To a correspondent last night he said: "There was so much talk in Grand Army circles on the subject of these pension vices that I determined to look it up for myself." I did so thoroughly and the result is that I will show what I think of them by voting for Mr. Cleveland. I fail to find a single veto that was not based upon principles of right and justice, and honor Cleveland for his upright and manly course. I believe his sympathies are always have been with the old soldier, and I can prove my belief in this by voting for Mr. Cleveland. I fail to find a single veto that was ever cast for a democrat. In the next place I am convinced the republican party is wrong in its tariff theories and that the country will say so at the coming election in unmistakable language, and on this account also, I will cast my vote for the democratic platform and the man who stands upon it."

Street Parades and Campaign Demonstrations to be suspended.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Chairman Carter of the republican national committee has issued a circular reciting the fact of Mrs. Harrison's death and desiring all the candidates in order to avoid street parades on election day. The circular will be open in each district on Tuesday, November 1. Go in person on that day and see that your name is on the poll book. Don't forget it.

REGISTER YOUR NAME.

The special attention of all Republicans is called to the fact that they must register their names on the poll books in their respective districts in order to avoid street parades on election day. The books will be open in each district on Tuesday, November 1.

A BIG SURPRISE IN STORE.

Col. McClure, of the Philadelphia Times, on the Political Situation.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—"I have taken in hand a good many presidential campaigns," said Col. A. K. McClure, of the Philadelphia Times, at the Victoria hotel, yesterday, "but I never saw one equivalent to the present one in lack of enthusiasm and quietness. I regard the whole of the affair as significant.

My opinion is that while there is very little excitement, the voters are talking and thinking about the election in a quiet way. I also believe that there will be a great surprise on one side or the other of the two great parties. If President Harrison is re-elected it will be by an overwhelming majority, but if

Cleveland wins he will be the biggest majority ever cast for a presidential candidate. The situation is no quieter than it is puzzling. But the chances favor Cleveland. The election will no doubt turn on the vote of New York state. It is difficult to say how this state will go. The democratic managers here, however, are confident of carrying New York, while the republicans are only hopeful."

Speaking about Wayne MacVeagh's defection and the republican claim that the ex-attorney general was a discreditable character for eight years, Col. McClure said: "He voted for Blaine in 1884 and Harrison four years ago. Therefore his conversation of recent date had no personal grievance against President Harrison. He bolded simply because he could not in-denounce the high protective tariff of the republican party, and because he believes in tariff reform. What effect his defection will have I can not say. I consider the tariff the leading issue, and the election November will settle the tariff policy of the government for many years. The voters will decide whether it shall be protection or tariff reform."

Talking about the outlook in Philadelphia, the colonel said that about 25,

000 democrats would be unable to vote because the democratic managers had not decided not to pay poll taxes.

The republicans on the other hand, have paid out a large sum for tax receipts for many thousands of poor voters. Pennsylylvania, he said, will probably give 100,000 majority.

A great gathering at Tammany Hall,

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Tammany gave a great object lesson last night and showed how political demonstrations ought to be conducted when run on the broad expansive methods peculiar to them. The crowd was immense and the excitement was intense.

DECATUR, ILLINOIS.

Entered at the Post Office as Decatur, Illinois as second class mail matter.

WEDNESDAY EVE, OCT. 26, 1892.

The American farmer according to Democratic logic, and according to the opinion of Mr. Darrow, is of all classes the "dumbest."

And still no Democrat has attempted to show the American laboringman how, under a free trade tariff, our ports can be opened to manufactured goods made by labor abroad that our laboringmen are now making for this market, and operate as a benefit to our laboringmen and insure to them the work they now have at the present wages. This is what we want to know.

Notwithstanding the sorrow under which the President now bows, the Democratic press continues to denounce him. The last one, which appears to-day, shows President Harrison under a huge oak from which the leaves are falling and is entitled "A Melancholy Fall Day." Common decency, under the circumstances, would suggest that at least so suggestive a cartoon should be omitted. Indeed, at the White House when the President looks upon the dead body of his wife the scene presents a picture of a melancholy fall day. Surely under such circumstances Mr. Harrison is entitled to decent treatment.

The Prairie street organ has taken special pains to dodge the facts involved in Mr. Darrow coming out from the city to call the farmers to the vote for protection. It assumes that Mr. Darrow is right to be a free-trader and live in the city he has been questioned. Not so, but the presumption of Mr. Darrow has been pointed out. The Republican farmer is as much interested in the prosperity of his business as Mr. Darrow is in the business he follows, and is as competent to determine what is best for him. The intelligent American farmer has seen enough to know that a policy that proposes to break down the farmers' American market, and has nothing to offer him in return but a sham European market that buys where it pleases, no matter how well painted by such sophists as Mr. Hammon puts on, is a fraud. The American farmer is a man of sense. He happens to have a right to think, and when Mr. Darrow assumes such superior knowledge of the farmer's interests as to come out of the heart of Ohio to Decatur to tell the farmer he is a fool because he refuses to allow Mr. Darrow to do his thinking, he bites off more than he can safely masticate. Mr. Darrow has a right to be a free-trader if he wants to, but he shows a lack of good sense when he calls the American farmer the dumbest of all men, because he stands by a policy that has put that nation at the front along all lines of prosperity.

Michael Cassius McDonald.

The REPUBLICAN a few days ago announced that Mike McDonald would not find a home in the Republican party. As soon as he discovered his alleged spot did not deceive anybody we find him in a Democratic meeting in Chicago contributing $25 for campaign expenses. This fact proves the correctness of the Republican's opinion. No, Mike McDonald is a born Democrat. He is much by instinct. If it were not for the Democratic party Mike would be a wanderer on the face of the political earth, attracting nobody and nobody attracting him. In the Democratic party he can not only find a congenial home, but is obeyed as a leader. There he has named the present candidate for governor on the Democratic ticket, Mr. Atigold, and he proposes to stand by his offspring so long as they both do live and continue in their present effort to play the voters of Illinois for chumps.

It is now due Mike that the Democratic papers, the Decatur Review included, have abased his memory when they supposed he had fitted them should make proper apology for slapping over as they did. They were too swift in supposing that Mike thought himself too good to affiliate with the present Democratic leaders. Mike is not stuck up. He has never been guilty of such a thing. He has always been willing to associate with these leaders and give them pointers as to how the Democratic state ticket should be made up, and in doing this he never shows a disposition to take up men of reputation among the people. He is satisfied to stand by along such men as Atigold, Sol Van Prang and others of that class, and as long as he can put them to the front he will be found declaring that he is "Democrat." Mike McDonald has no intention of leaving the Democratic party and never had. He is a man of sublime convictions touching all the great questions before the people, and condescendingly desiring the good of all the people his philanthropy would not admit of his being anything but a Democrat of the strictest sort. Mike is entitled to, and we insist should have, proper apology from every Democrat who has assailed him in the moment when the word had gone out that he was inclined to leave the happy family.

Calling a Halt

There are those in the North who either refuse to believe that in parts of the South freedom of the ballot is utterly ignored or are not honest enough to admit it; but in the South there is no effort to conceal the fact that the balloting in many of those states is a piece of mockery. These people, since the same frauds practiced upon the Republicans have been used against those who were formerly Democrats, who in the recent election there attempted to elect the people's party candidates are beginning to see the danger to the peace of the community by these frauds and are crying out against them and confessing that they have made a political blunder in teaching their people to disregard the sanctity of the ballot. The Greenville, (S. C.) Daily News (Dem) says:

The Greenville News, for instance, having in these years of the revolution, printed many fine articles in favor of upholding the ballot, applying boycotts and other similar processes, which applied against our side methods we helped to teach them. We could and did denounce men who, having had larger experience and understanding the different conditions and circumstances, confined themselves to teach independence and gave their influence to purpose of every good citizen to remove. We do not believe any mistakes were made in the revolutions. They were necessary, many and serious as were the results of the Civil War. When war is over, however, all sensible and patriotic men help to remove its habits and demoralization.

The southern people must unlearn many of the political methods and habits they were forced to learn in order to be successful in the struggle. War is necessary, though it is horrible. When war is over, however, all sensible and patriotic men help to remove its habits and demoralization.

Gov. Ray on "Wildcats" Currency.

Gov. Ray is pretty well calculated to ventilate the villainy concealed in the innocent little two-line recommendation of the democrats for repealing the 10 per cent. tax on the issues of state banks. He was in business during the "wildcats" era, and had experimental demonstration of the difficulty and annoyance attending the transaction of business, using in trade a medium falsely called money issued by all sorts of banks so variable in value that it changed not only daily, but often hourly. He relates one instance which will stand for thousands of others, similar in general respects, though varying often in detail. A farmer having saved together a considerable sum, concluded to trade it, rather than let it sit, and therefore organized a trading trip to town—accompanied by his wife and daughters, all being willing to join the procession, as they needed so many things. After the selections of goods had been made, the old-time wallet was produced and nine new crisp bills on a new "wildcat" bank. The governor does not know the rate of discount, for the new bills—but agreed to leave it to the leading bank of the city. The rate being set, 20 per cent off—the bill was paid, and after bidding his customer good-by, Mr. Ray made up his money for deposit. On reaching the bank, he was astonished to find that the money he had just taken from the wallet was not saved, but had been spent. "I thought," said the judge, "that you were a clever fellow, but that you were not a good one." "So I did," said the banker, "but that was an hour ago, and I just had a private dispatch." "Well, take my money at 70 cents then," said Ray, who, looking out, saw a messenger-boy approaching. "All right," said the banker, who a moment later received another dispatch of a still greater discount.
